

U-BOAT ATTACKS OFF U. S.

N. Y. BLOCKADE
ATTEMPT SEEN

U. S. Destroyer Smith Narrowly Misses Torpedo Fired by German Submarine.

OTHERS MAY BE PRESENT

BULLETIN.

Washington, April 17.—A German submarine today fired on the destroyer Smith about 100 miles south of New York.

The presence of enemy submarines in American waters indicates that the threatened German submarine blockade of Atlantic ports has begun.

This announcement was made by the navy department.

Reported from Fire Island lightship to the naval stations at Boston and New York at 3:30 a. m. on the 17th, an enemy submarine was sighted by the U. S. S. Smith, running apparently submerged. Submarine fired a torpedo at the U. S. S. Smith, which missed by 30 yards. The wake of the torpedo was plainly seen crossing the bow. Submarine disappeared.

Boston Gets First News.

First information of the encounter came to the navy department in a roundabout way from the Boston navy yard, which picked up the Smith's report. It had been fired on by a German U-boat.

The navy department, after communicating with Fire Island, Boston, New York and other points on the Atlantic, announced that the report of the Smith's encounter had been substantiated by official investigation.

At noon no further details were available here.

Whether the presence of the German submarine merely foreshadowed a sporadic raid such as the U-53 conducted off the New England coast or whether it is the signal for the beginning of a general submarine blockade of the Atlantic coast is unknown.

The attack on the U-boat is Germany's first recognition of the state of war declared by the United States. It was stated in Germany soon after the action of congress that no aggressive steps would be taken against the United States.

Practically no American officials believed this statement, however, and steps to meet aggression were at once taken. The probability of submarine attack on unprotected seaboard cities and towns, raids on shipping within sight of American shores, and a submarine blockade of the principal Atlantic ports with the purpose of terrorizing shipping and people were expected.

Last week word came to Washington in a roundabout way that Germany was about to declare a prohibited submarine zone about the harbors at Boston, New York, the Delaware capes, Chesapeake bay, Charleston and Savannah. This would have included all the important ports on the Atlantic seaboard. It was said then that an official warning to neutrals of the prohibited zone would be issued from Berlin. Some American officials were disinclined to credit the report, but the entente diplomatic corps here believed in it, and predicted that Germany would soon carry the submarine campaign to this side of the Atlantic, principally for the purpose of securing neutral shipping away from American harbors and to raid the great squadrons of merchant ships which are moving food and supplies to America's allies on the European battle fronts.

With these great claims for damage, some officials are inclined to believe that the lack of a declaration of a prohibited zone in American waters may be due to the crippled condition of communications with Germany since the United States entered the war. Without such a declaration, they point out, Germany would escape the necessity of declaring and maintaining a general blockade of the Atlantic coast. When the task of the union navy during the civil war in maintaining an effective blockade of the southern ports, is recalled, the difficulties of a submarine blockade of the vast coast line may be estimated.

With submarine war brought close to the doors of America, the possibility that German U-boats may have bases on this side of the Atlantic is again revived. The raid of the U-53 and the two trips of the Deutschland demonstrated that it was possible for a German submarine to escape the British cordons in the north sea and make their way to America waters.

War Situation

Along a 150-mile front the French and British are pushing back the German armies in a titanic struggle for mastery of the western front.

Stopping into the fray after the British had been hammering the German lines in the Arras region to bits for a week, the French struck on a 25-mile front along the Aisne, carried the German positions to an average depth of from 3 to 2 1/2 miles, captured more than 10,000 prisoners and maintained all the ground won. All German counter attacks were repulsed, and in the Aisne region, west of Craonne, the Germans suffered heavy losses. Their total casualties all told in the first 24 hours' fighting are estimated at 100,000 men.

Both British and French reports today indicate that the continuation of the operations is being hampered by bad weather.

Operations in other sectors of the west front and in the other war areas are at present of secondary importance, although the French activities further west in the Champagne and in the Alsace-Lorraine district apparently will bear close watching for possible important developments.

The French have delivered violent attacks against the Germans along a front of 25 miles and have inflicted heavy casualties, as well as capturing 10,000 prisoners in the departments of the Aisne and the Marne. It is estimated that the Germans lost 100,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners.

From Solons to Craonne the entire German first line positions fell into the hands of the French, while east of Craonne a second line German position south of Juvincourt and another near Berniercourt were captured.

In Champagne violent artillery activity continues, probably being the forerunner of an attempt by the French to drive against the German lines in this region.

The French have also renewed with great violence the fighting against the Germans in Alsace and Lorraine, which would appear that all along the French front the moment is approaching for an intensive battle from Belgium to the Swiss border.

While the British have made further progress in the St. Quentin region the fighting has been somewhat halted by a heavy rainstorm.

er a submarine could make such a trip and return without having a supply base somewhere on this side of the Atlantic is gravely doubted.

Another ship suspected. Many officials here always have believed that the U-53 had a mother ship somewhere down on the horizon. The possibility that merchant submarine of the Deutschland type, now converted to carry oil and other supplies, might accompany flotillas of the war boats on their transatlantic raids is recognized as being ever present. The possibility of bases having been planted by the German raiders recently at large in the south Atlantic is one of the foremost problems. It even has been suspected that parts of submarines had been shipped to Mexico and assembled there, but by many well informed officials that is doubted. The possibility of a German submarine base in the Gulf of Mexico, however, has long been recognized, and many officials are convinced that when the raiding began after the declaration of war the raiders would come from that quarter.

There also have been many reports of secret German bases established on the rocky and inaccessible coasts of Maine and northern Canada, from which German U-boats could be supplied with the aid of troops and supplies going from Canada to the continent. Inasmuch as there has been no evidence of the use of such bases in more than two years of war, it is regarded as unlikely that even if they exist they can now be brought into use in Germany's warfare against the United States.

The navy has taken all the measures it now has at hand against the submarine menace, and is taking more as they become available. Naval officers recognize the danger of submarine operations off American coasts but are confident of the navy's ability to deal with them so far as it is possible at this time.

Expert opinion is that some shipping is bound to be lost if the raiding operations are continued.

ANNOUNCE GERMANS
LOST 100,000 MEN

London, April 17, 1 p. m.—The British made a further advance in the neighborhood of Epheby last night, according to an official statement issued by the war office. Rain storms are hampering operations.

German Losses 100,000. Paris, April 16, 12 p. m.—Germany suffered another crushing blow upon the western front today when 40 miles of the strongest part of her line were wrested from her with an estimated loss of nearly 100,000 killed, wounded and prisoners. All France hails the victory as a brilliant demonstration of the skill of her generals and the courage of her troops.

German counter-attacks in force in the region of Aisne and Courcy were repulsed last night by the French, according to an official statement issued today by the French war office. Heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans.

Damage Is Enormous. Measured by the amount of territory freed the victory does not compare with the Somme offensive which opened a month ago, but viewed from the amount of destruction to the enemy's forces and the damage to his military prestige, it is a far greater success.

From Solons to Craonne the German line runs along a series of hills of an average height of 500 feet with deep valleys between. The attackers advanced up the valleys under a cross fire from each flank but the artillery curtain, on a new plan invented by a British general, was so effective that the operation was carried out at less cost than might be expected.

The weak point of the German line is from Craonne to Rheims, where the ground is more level. Here the attack made more progress and the danger of a rupture of the line became so imminent that the Germans threw in all available reserves. The reserves were smashed by the French field artillery which kept close on the heels of the waves of infantry.

The result of today's operations is that the great western battle has now joined along a front of close to 150 miles, more than one-third of the mighty line from Switzerland to the sea.

Great Battle Nears Berlin. Berlin, April 17, via London, 5:55 p. m.—"One of the greatest battles of the mighty war and therefore also in world's history," says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff, "is in progress on the river Aisne."

GRAZED MAN SHOOT
GALESBURG POLICEMAN

Galesburg, April 17.—While arresting George W. Pulliam, apparently mentally deranged, thru brooding over the war, Policeman John Swickard was shot and dangerously injured here today.

FREDDIE WELSH MEETS
BAT NELSON TONIGHT

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

St. Louis, Mo., April 17.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion and Bat Nelson of Hagerstown, a former champion, are matched to box 12 rounds at the Coliseum here tonight.

It will be Nelson's second fight since 1915. His other contest was in St. Louis March 17, when he knocked out Pierce Matthews in the eighth round.

Nelson has been training hard and is confident counts for anything will force the champion to extend himself. Nelson cannot be convinced that it is possible for him to lose.

Chicago, April 17.—Removal of the duty on Canadian wheat and measures proposed at Washington for the control and output, weighed in a sharp break in wheat prices at the opening of the board of trade today.

May wheat, which closed yesterday at $2.25 1/2, sold today at $2.20 at the opening. July dropped an extreme 7/16 to $1.92 and September, which closed yesterday at $1.75, declined to $1.67.

BERLIN STRIKERS
ASKING MORE BREAD

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Copenhagen, April 16, via London, April 17.—The strike called today in Berlin of metal and machine workers and transportation employees is the first considerable labor trouble in the German capital since the munition workers struck when Dr. Karl Liebknecht was convicted of treason. At that time almost 100,000 men were idle three days.

The cause of the present strike is apparently the reduction in the bread ration. If, however, like the previous strike, the present walkout has been organized by the radical socialists, there is no doubt that it has the nature of a peace demonstration.

Keep Cars Running. The minority socialist organization, to which the great bulk of munition and other socialist workers in Berlin belong, attempted to organize workers' processions from the factories to the center of the city.

A semi-official despatch obviously carefully edited and censored, asserts that despite part suspension of work by three branches of industry, work in the big munition establishments has not been interfered with and elevated and great car service is proceeding normally. The latter is probably in view of the high proportion of women now employed on the systems.

Yesterday's German newspapers intimated that the agitation was in evidence elsewhere in the empire, particularly in Leipzig.

Day of Anxieties. Berlin, April 16, via London, April 17.—A day of apprehension in Berlin ended tonight without alarming results. The threatened strike because of a reduction in the weekly bread ration materialized in only part of the larger factories and did not affect transportation nor public utilities.

Some of the factories affected announced tonight that the workmen would resume work tomorrow.

The streets are quiet tonight but the police are still on guard. The government authorities declare that they will make no effort to interfere with the strikers because they are only registering disapproval of the new food regulations and are expected to resume work everywhere before the end of the week.

CHILDREN HEAR
MAUD POWELL

Great Violinist Responds to Almost Tearful Appeal of Little Ones of Home Town.

BIG SYLVANDELL AUDIENCE

Maud Powell has played before great audiences in all the leading music centers of the world, but she never poured her very soul into her violin with more impassioned fervor than when, yesterday afternoon, she impulsively responded to the almost tearful appeal of the children of her old home town and won thereby a tribute that brought tears to her eyes.

The stage was well set for the dramatic incident.

Sylvandell was crowded to the doors with public and parochial school pupils and adult gathered to hear the first of the two afternoon children's concerts by the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Seven hundred pupils, standing upon a huge platform, rising tier upon tier back of the orchestra, had sung two groups of songs under the direction of Miss Pook and Mr. Stables, music directors of the Aurora public schools.

Maud Powell appeared.

As the applause from the last song died away Maud Powell, in street costume, emerged from the director's room to the left and walked upon the stage.

The audience understood in a minute who the visitor was and a storm of applause greeted her in which the children on the platform joined.

Bowing her acknowledgments, Miss Powell told them that the youthful and greatly impressed by the letters written to her by Aurora public school pupils asking that she play for them at the afternoon concert, but that in justice to herself and her audience at the evening performance she could not intended coming down at all in the afternoon, but could not resist the temptation to see the children and hear them sing. She said that she wished to thank them and to urge them to continue their interest in music.

Miss Powell then bowed and retired to the director's room, but the spontaneous appeal for her to play that came in another outburst of applause overwhelmed her.

A Wonderful Performance. The next number on the program was the well known "Meditation" from "Thais" with violin obligato by Harry Welbach concert master of the orchestra. Miss Powell threw off her coat, seized Mr. Welbach's violin and was out on the platform in a moment. The chorus of childish cheers mingled with the handclapping was silenced in a moment as Miss Powell, lifted his baton, the orchestra began the opening bars and in another instant Miss Powell swung into the obligato.

The breathless audience clung to every note. High soloist and orchestra played as they inspired. The walls of Sylvandell have echoed and will re-echo to the strains of masterly music but never again to such as those.

When the last notes died away the vast audience again gave vent to its feelings with cheers and terrific handclapping.

Miss Powell could not remain for the second concert, from 4 to 5 o'clock, much as she wished to do. However, the second audience had its picture taken by flashlight which was some compensation.

Children in Songs. The two afternoon concerts by the orchestra, the regular spring festival of the Aurora symphony series under the direction of Mr. Theodore Yoder, were greatly enjoyed by the children. The program was particularly appealing to youngsters and adults.

Miss Pook of the east side schools conducted the orchestra and chorus for the first group of songs and Mr. Stables of the west side for the second group. Both were admirable.

The evening program was attended by an audience that filled the auditorium. The Goldmark overture, "In Springtime" was enthusiastically received. Maud Powell's rendition of the Saint-Saens concerto was all that could be desired. The famous violinist was given a most enthusiastic reception by her old Aurora friends and she responded with a most exquisitely beautiful performance. For an encore she played, without accompaniment, two studies for the violin by Fiorillo.

The "Pathetic Symphony" by Tachikowsky was the most ambitious effort the orchestra has yet made during the Aurora symphony series. The performance was nothing short of marvelous under the very able direction of Mr. Stock who is known as perhaps the best conductor of modern compositions in the country.

Audience Sings "America." At the close the orchestra played "America." The audience arose and joined in singing two stanzas.

Extended plans are being made for the violin by Fiorillo.

At the first concert on October 22 Frieda Hempel, the world famous coloratura soprano from the Metropolitan Opera company of New York will be the soloist.

On January 7, 1918, the orchestra will lay a popular program and on April 15, 1918, there will be the usual school programs in the afternoon at 2 and 6 o'clock and the evening concert.

Season tickets will be delivered between September 15 and October 15.

EAST HIGH COOKING
SCHOOL WORK EXTENDED

The class in cooking in East High school, conducted in Lower High, is about to extend its activities to conducting similar work in other schools about the country.

The class each year is taught household economics and cooking in a perfectly equipped kitchen, with its adjoining dining room, equipped for perfect service of the meals prepared.

The members of the class, in order to gain practical experience, may be gained in marketing, estimation of food costs, etc., are now to plan, prepare and serve menus as desired by small groups, the luncheons or dinners to be served, of course, in the lower high dining room. In case the prospective host or hostess prefers to plan his or her own menu, the class will prepare this menu and serve it, estimating the cost thereof previously. This will relieve those entertaining from all responsibility and at the same time give opportunity for practical training in this direction.

FIGHT TO GET
WOMEN'S VOTE

Harley and McCredie Forbes Make Especial Effort for Fair Electors.

LATE BALLOTING IS FAST

The majority election developed into a mad scramble for the women's vote this afternoon. Rain kept the morning away from the polls in the morning hours and at 3:30 o'clock the men still led almost five to three. At this hour, 8:30 voters had been cast against 10,553 last year at the same hour. The women began a rush to the polls at 2 o'clock, however, and the fast voting made it look as if the between 14,000 and 15,000 votes would be cast before the polls closed at 7 o'clock. Over 14,000 votes were cast at the last majority election.

The voting was heaviest in the Evanston, Evanston school precinct and on Pigeon Hill.

At 3:30 o'clock the vote stood:

First precinct	318	385
Second precinct	316	389
Third precinct	316	389
Fourth precinct	316	389
Fifth precinct	316	389

Scramble for Women Vote.

All morning the cry "automobile, more automobiles, give us more machines" came over the telephone wires from precinct captains to fifty headquarters. All sides were making desperate efforts to get the women out and were having a hard time of it because of the driving rain. By noon more than 150 automobiles were jamming about the city chasing the women vote. Between 10 and 11 o'clock the women voted more briskly, and where they had been outnumbered 2 to 1 they largely behind only the ratio of 2 to 2.

GERMANS FIGHT FURIOUSLY

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Paris, April 17.—The great offensive started by the French along a 20-mile front from Boissons to Rheims is likely to extend still farther to the north or the day after. The tremendous assault on the German lines had been long carefully planned and for a month French artillery had been pounding the enemy's position. The Germans were well aware of what was coming, as they showed by a number of furious attacks, notably at Esplan and Godat farm, with the object of finding out something definite in regard to the French preparation. The invaders had manned naturally formidable positions with effectives amounting to at least 20 divisions and an enormous number of guns, well supplied with munitions.

Prisoners Pouring In.
The battle opened on the left of the line, where, shortly after 6 o'clock in the morning the French infantry swept forward in an irresistible wave. In spite of a stiff resistance, the Germans were driven back and inside half an hour prisoners began streaming toward the French rear by hundreds. The struggle was hottest east of Loire as well as in the whole sector of Berry-au-Bac and to the east of Craonne, but the French heavy shells were too much for the German line and before noon the whole front line was won.

On the night the action began a little later in the morning. The French met with determined resistance and the fighting was terrible. After several hours of heroic struggle the French infantry, thanks to the support of several hundred heavy quick firing guns, forced their way into the enemy's first line. It was a fine success as the terrain was most difficult, and the positions formidable.

German Counter Attack.
In the afternoon the Germans counter-attacked with extreme violence, almost everywhere along the front. The majority of their reserves were engaged north and east of the Brimont ridge. It is from the Brimont fort, built on a crest which dominates all the plain around, that the Germans have bombarded the city of Rheims. The French troops are now very close to this ridge which is likely to play a prominent part in the coming fighting. In capturing the ridge they have drawn nearer to Bernicourt and have gone far beyond the famous positions which they lost in the first weeks of the war and failed to win back at the battle of the Marne.

According to the latest news reaching Paris the Germans are bombarding the lost trenches furiously, counter-attack after counter-attack having been delivered far into the night. The struggle is particularly fierce in the region of Craonne but the French have so far managed to hold their gains. The French advance averages in depth from two to two and a half miles beyond the German front position which is composed of lines of five and six trenches, one behind the other.

SOCIALISTS ARRANGING FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
The Hague, via London, April 17.—International socialist circles are notified at the latest news from Russia, according to what the press is doing, is firmly established with the power of the socialist extremists very small compared to that of those who favor a lasting rather than a patched up peace. A reserved attitude is adopted in regard to the expected fruits of the conference which it is decided to call at Stockholm, but the international socialists are keenly anxious to miss no chance of making their influence felt in the eventual reorganization of Europe.

No program has been drawn up for the conference, but a sharp conflict of opinion is likely to develop. The Dutch delegates themselves are divided between the standpoint of the Russian minister of justice, M. Kerensky, and President Wilson's peace program. In the meanwhile pacifist circles at the Hague are active and war council has been called for tomorrow to consider among other things the possible dispatch of deputations to the capitals of the central powers.

GERMAN RAIDER CRUISER HAS BEEN BLOWN UP

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
San Juan, Porto Rico, April 17.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—What is believed to be authentic information as to the fate of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, which was active in the Caribbean and off the coast of Brazil during the first months of the war, was given this week by Capt. Heinrich Lubinus, former prize officer on the Karlsruhe, who brought the German prize Kd-111 into this port in January, 1915. The Kd-111 was formerly the British freighter Farnie and was captured Oct. 5, 1914.

The Karlsruhe was sunk following an internal explosion Nov. 4, 1914, not far from the island of Trinidad, according to Captain Lubinus, who said that he had only recently received this information direct from Germany from one of the surviving officers of the cruiser.

This statement gives confirmation to reports from Trinidad about that time saying that a life-preserver and portions of wreckage believed to have come from the Karlsruhe had been picked up there.

According to Captain Lubinus, Captain Kohler, commander of the Karlsruhe, several of the officers and more than 100 men lost their lives when the cruiser went down.

Many German-Americans Found
Out of Sympathy With Prussianism—Socialists Hope.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Copenhagen, April 16, via London, April 17.—In today's Berlin Tageblatt Theodore Wolff comes to the defense of Count von Bernstorff and the German-Americans against the attacks made on them in the conservative and pan-German press. The latest example of the attacks was in the weekly review, the Kreis Zeitung in which it was asserted that the Washington embassy had been perhaps the weakest point in the whole system of German diplomacy and had failed in correct judgment of American conditions and American temperament.

Herr Wolff declares that this charge is utterly false. As for the German-Americans, whom the jingo writers now wish to disown and repudiate for failing in their mission in America, have a legitimate grievance against the pan-German jingoes, whose extravagance of language and action has made any attempt to explain and defend Germany futile. Many of the German-Americans are out of sympathy with the Prussia of caste privilege and bureaucratic tutelage but if Prussia and the empire had a complete re-birth the obstacles to love and attachment of the old fatherland would disappear.

The writer declares that those who, after working for months to bring about war with the United States, now profess disappointment and surprise are doomed to further surprises. He warns them that the old autocratic Russia on which he says they relied for support of their reactionary policies is gone forever. Herr Wolff concludes with predicting the rise of a school of socialist diplomats "who will spin threads of brotherhood and peace over the heads of governments."

Two hearts are better than one—
if they are trumps.

A man would sooner have a woman look at him with one eye half closed than both eyes wide open.

ANTIS CALL SUFFRAGE BURDEN, NOT REWARD

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
New York, April 17.—Declaring that "the ballot is not a reward but a burden," Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge and Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, presidents, respectively, of the national and of the New York state associations opposed to woman suffrage, issued a joint statement today protesting against proposals to give women the suffrage as a reward for services to their country. The statement says: "The political payment proposed is an insult to woman's patriotism as a price and an insult to her intelligence as a reward. The state can no more reward its women with a vote than a man can compensate his wife or mother by forcing additional work and worry upon her when she is already overburdened with duties she cannot shirk."

"Women are willing to take men's places in industry. They gladly accept all additional work necessary to win the war. But of all times, at this period of national crisis, with extra duties imposed by war the vast majority of women most need and desire exemption from political competition with men or with other women."

When you discover a man who knows all about everything you should lose him quickly in self-defense.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallowness, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one tablet nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c

AMERICAN SHIP SUNK; TWO SCALDED TO DEATH

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
New York, April 17.—The loss of the American steamship Zealandia off the British coast early this month was due to striking a mine, and two of the crew were scalded to death, according to officers of the vessel, joint statement today on an American ship.

EMPEROR IN INTERVIEW

Berlin, April 16, via London, April 17.—Emperor Charles of Austria is quoted by Ebern Blomson as saying in an interview at Luxembourg near Vienna: "I believe I know war better than most of the men who are at the head of the enemy powers today. I know not only the financial and economic effects of war but I know also what it means to lie in the trenches. I have lived a long time in the field and have seen men fall and die at my feet. Therefore I know also, maybe better than any other emperor or king, what peace means."

Mission Convention On.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN HELP FEED ARMY

Every Scout to Feed One Soldier
Is the New Slogan for War Time Service.

Would Also Relieve Police and Civil Authorities—Red Cross and Navy.

"Every Scout to Feed a Soldier," is a new boy scout slogan that has been adopted by the national council of the organization. The slogan is incorporated in war time scout instructions. Received by Edward C. Bacon, national field commissioner who is in charge of the Boy Scout campaign in Aurora.

What Boy Scouts will do in war time is the topic of the set of resolutions sent out by the national council. These will probably be given additional endorsement by the local council which meets with the team captains at dinner at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the headquarters in LaSalle street.

The resolutions follow:

Whereas, congress has declared that a state of war exists between this country and Germany, and

Whereas, each member of the Boy Scouts of America is definitely obligated by the Scout oath to do this duty to his country, and

Whereas, the combined strength of the Boy Scouts of America, now including 210,000 boys and 50,000 men forms a potential asset to the country for co-operative effort, be it

Resolved that every officer and member of the Boy Scouts of America be urged, in addition to the service they will render in the police and civil authorities in their own cities, to definitely assist in the development of the plans which the national council has made with the following organizations—

First, the department of agriculture and the council of national defense. To co-operate in the extension of the development of home gardens under the slogan, "Every Scout to feed a soldier."

Second, the American National Red Cross. To co-operate with the Red Cross through its local chapters in meeting their responsibilities occasioned by the state of war.

Third, the navy department. To co-operate with the navy department in organizing an emergency coast patrol along the sea coast towns.

MANY WOULD QUIT SCHOOL TO JOIN THE ARMY

The score or more of West High boys who have signified their intention of enlisting in the United States army if they can secure credit for the present semester's work were still marking time this morning in hopes of securing the board's approval of their action.

The list includes practically every youth of athletic ability in West High and if it goes thru the ranks of the team will be practically depleted. Most of the lads are members of the West High corps of cadets. Among those who have signified their intention of going to war are George Herrick, Harold Holmes, Harold Singer, George Johnson, Archie Macdonald, Carrol Humiston, Bernard Conway, Lawrence Conway, Bertrand Conway, Emmet Dellenbach, Arthur O'Malley, Paul Weber, Edwin Flannigan, Gus Tebbel, Wilson Long, Harold Johnson, Harold Mercer, John Litzky, Howard Esser, Joseph Higgins, Joseph Scherer, John Holmberg and Ralph Judd.

The faculty has not taken any action on the petition of the boys that they be granted their credits. Rupt. S. K. McNevel said: "The matter has not been formally presented to us by the boys. There has just been talk among themselves. If the petition was presented it would be taken up by the board at the proper time. I have no idea what their action would be."

GO SLOW, WARNING IN DRY GOODS MART

Business Sentiment Is That Government Will Take Much Machinery for War Uses.

Difficulty in Forecasting Future as to Supply and Demand—Raw Material Cost High.

This is what the Dry Good Economist, a recognized authority in the field, has to say as to the conditions in textiles and allied lines:

The process of adjustment to the new conditions has begun. Buyers and sellers of merchandise are alike impressed with the difficulty of forecasting the future in regard to supply and demand, more especially supply, now that this country has decided to enter actively into the war. As a result of this attitude sellers have shown decided unwillingness to make commitments in some of the greater and more important lines.

Noting this, and feeling that the government's requirements will take a large quantity of machinery out of the production of goods, especially fabrics, for the use of the ordinary consumer, many buyers have jumped to the conclusion that their best course is to get all the goods they can without regard to the real facts and without taking into consideration other possible contingencies.

Better Go Slow.

There is, of course, ground for the proceedings both of the sellers and of the buyers in question. On the one hand, there is no sense in going too far even in the right direction.

There is, indeed, every reason to look for a more conservative attitude all around after the new conditions have become more familiar. True, the government will require large quantities of woolen and cotton fabrics—hosiery, uniforms, underwear, socks, blankets and the like. But a country's producing facilities are enormous, and it is safe to say that so far as sellers are concerned they are influenced much more by the possibility of their plants or their output being required for government purposes, and by the possible effect of the new conditions on prices, than they are by fear of inability to make deliveries if they are able to stick to the production of their own regular lines.

Raw Material Cost Big Factor.

The real difficulty, as it seems to us, is the continued enhancement in the cost of raw materials. Altho it reacted later, raw cotton again advanced steeply this week on the prospects of a reduced acreage thru land being devoted to raising food products in the south and the recent unfavorable weather conditions. To this was added the belief that exports will increase now that this country is in the business of fighting Germany's submarines. One cause for cotton scarcity is found in the vast quantity of long staple cotton used in the production of automobile tires.

The indications are that wool will continue scarce and very high even on the conclusion of the war and for some time thereafter.

No Real Change.

These conditions, however, existed

TRENCH WARFARE BEING ABANDONED

Marshal Haig Sending British Armies Into German Lines in Open Fighting.

Dugout Life Softens Men for Warfare, He Believes—Losses Surprisingly Small.

[By Associated Press London Wire.]

British Headquarters in France, via London, April 14, 6:10 a. m.—It is not without difficulty that one comes to a realization that semi-open warfare has replaced the old "deep trench" fighting on the greater part of the British front. It is difficult even for the fighting men actually to grasp the situation, a situation for which they have waited so long. The Germans possibly feel the change more than anyone else for above all things they love their underground comfort. The Germans were the first to transfer fighting to ditches and they are reluctantly giving up that style of warfare.

The deep, concrete dugouts and tunnels along the old front were the only protection the Germans had against the ever-increasing British gunfire and every time they get an opportunity to pause, now they immediately begin to dig in. They take to cover as if by second nature.

Dugout Life Softens Men.

The British have always contended that the German dugouts softened the men who congregated in them and could only be kept with difficulty in the open trenches. So it was easier to break the British of the trench habit than has been the case with the Germans.

Open field tactics have been a part of the training of the new English army ever since its organization began in 1914. There has been some criticism of that system from time to time on the ground that the war would always be fought from trench to trench but for the last few months the British army in France has been drilled in open tactics almost daily. The results of these training methods have been apparent in the last few days and undoubtedly prove still more valuable in the wider operations which are unquestionably coming.

The correspondent saw a bit of field maneuvering two days ago in which the British troops completely outwitted part of one of Germany's crack regiments. It is rather a striking commentary that when the war began, the officer in command of the British unit was a young solicitor and such a thing as leading soldiers into battle had never entered his head. Two years of training in the school of actual war works its own wonders.

Losses Much Smaller.

The losses in the recently inaugurated operations, which continue to widen with time have been so much smaller than would be naturally expected in attacks upon such strong positions as those from which the Germans have been driven that the army authorities are fairly jubilant. Another gratifying feature of the fighting has been the speed with which the British troops have everywhere attained their objective. Driving the Germans from positions which they had held for two years has given the army a higher fighting spirit than it ever had before.

The turning of the top of the Hindenburg line, to which attention is now officially called in the communiqué, has been an achievement of which the full importance has not yet been developed. The Germans by the way, no longer call this line after Hindenburg but know it as the Vimy, named after the village of the Vimy, which seems to have somewhat upset the German plan but they are evidently determined to put up the strongest possible defensive fighting before falling back to the uncompleted positions where dugouts are missing and the protection

ENGLISH AIRMEN ATTACK FREIBURG

Inland German College City Badly Damaged in Retaliation for Hospital Ship Sinking.

Attackers Drop Message Explaining Act—Colonel Leading Raid Is Captured.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Berlin, April 17, via London, 12:45 p. m.—An official announcement says 11 persons have been killed, 29 injured and considerable damage done to the university building by an air attack on Freiburg.

A British admiralty statement last night said that a large squadron of British and French airplanes bombarded Freiburg Saturday, as a reprisal for German submarine attacks on British hospital ships.

The official statement follows: "On Saturday at noon an enemy air squadron of 12 airplanes attacked the open town of Freiburg in Breisgau. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the attack was repeated by two further squadrons totaling 22 airplanes. "To this nefarious attack several people unfortunately fell victims. Seven women, three men and one soldier were killed and 17 women, 8 men and 2 children injured.

Buildings Heavily Damaged. "The enemy airmen selected as objectives the new municipal theater, institutes and infirmaries. The anatomy section of the university was considerably damaged. Owing to our effective counter measures, the attacks could not be fully executed. "In the course of air battles which resulted, two enemy airplanes were shot down near Schlestadt and Markirch. A third was shot down in an air battle combined with a bombardment from the ground. All three airplanes were of English type with English occupants.

Capture English Officer. "The leaders of the attack, an English lieutenant-colonel fell into our hands. According to his statement and the contents of a fly sheet which was thrown down, the attack was in reprisal for the torpedoing of the Gloucester Castle (British hospital ship) recently sunk by a German submarine. We must resolutely contest the right to make such 'societies'. In justification, our government gave England to understand in time enough that it could no longer tolerate the passage of so-called hospital ships in the precisely defined zone. If the English, despite our warning, misuse the Red Cross and carry it on transports in the war zone they must bear the consequences of their action, but to attack an open town from revenge is cheap glory. There are no objects of military importance in Freiburg to justify the attack."

At eight strikes of the clock's gong in the morning the curtain will rise upon the greatest stage ever set for a Shoe Sale in this section of the state. A sale you had no reason to expect, especially under the topsy-turvy conditions of the world's Shoe market at this time, brought about by a dire shrinkage of leather due to the war.

The conditions surrounding this sale have already been made known to you. The time was ripe for me to take over the big $25,000 stock of the Walk-Over Boot Shop at a nominal figure, and so the deal was closed. This huge assortment of new, stylish and up-to-date footwear, including shoes, oxfords and slippers for men, women and children, has been moved to my big store across the street.

Because of this opportune purchase, also for the season that I could hardly afford to carry a stock of this proportion along with my other mammoth assemblage of footwear, the transaction results in a sale by which it gives me the greatest pleasure to let patrons and friends of both stores share my good fortune.

There is no question but what this sale will bring every thinking person of the great Fox River community to their feet in utter astonishment. To read over the prices listed here today and to compare them with those you have been asked to pay of late, is the most convincing proof of this sale's positive importance to you—it tells the story better than anything else I might say.

No doubt you already know, without being told, just what the shoe situation is today. Every day or so notices come to me from manufacturers, informing me of still greater and practically prohibitive increases. Prices are going to go still higher, with relative quality not so good. This information I give to guide you wisely in your purchases at this time.

You Have Been Warned to Buy Shoes I Say Now Is the Time!

Come, tomorrow, see for yourself what a real buying opportunity this is for you. You must see the shoes, the fine styles, the dependable quality of the leathers and the extra careful workmanship, to appreciate the double economy of participating in these fairly marvelous bargains. Remember, quality counts in shoes these days more than any other factor that enters into their buying. With the combination this sale affords you—Walk-Over Shoes, standard the world over, coupled with these Absorption Sale Prices, to miss this sale would be overlooking a money-saving occasion long to be regretted.

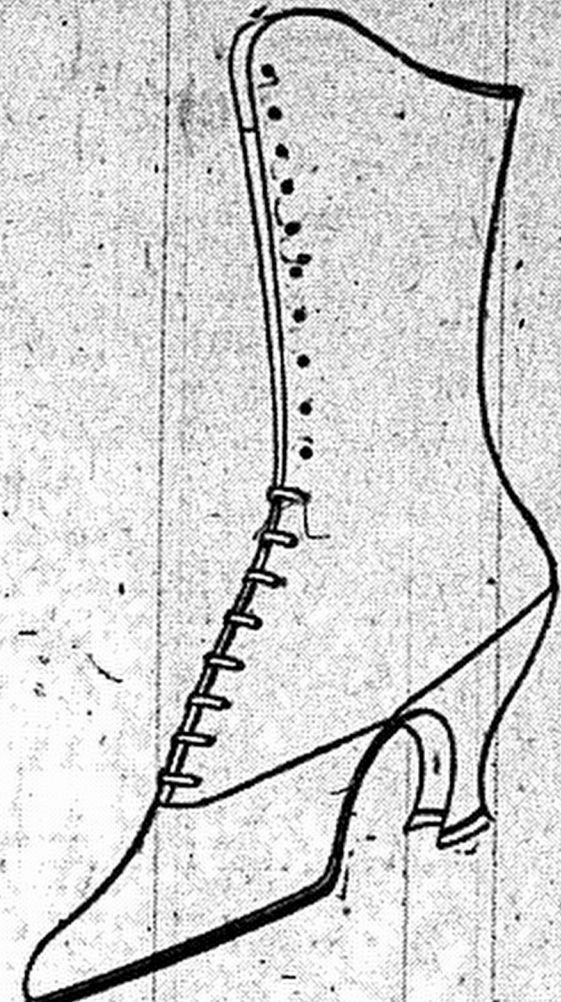

And come early. Plenty of capable shoe folk will be on hand to serve you, and you will be fitted carefully and conscientiously, as usual.

INTER-STATE DOCTORS

Have a Treatment That Cures Catarrh

WONDERFUL CURES OF AURORA PEOPLE

Reputation of the Treatment Stands on This Firm Foundation of Proof.

Home testimonials from relatives, neighbors and friends are what inspire confidence in any doctor. It is such as these that have given the Inter-State Doctors, who are expert medical specialists and have their Aurora Institute located on the second floor of 165 Main street, over Holmes Bros. drugists, their high reputation for curing the sick, even after all other doctors have failed, and all hope is given out. You're not asked to read it in an almanac or some obscure corner of the paper; that "Bill Jones of Posey county" cured of this or that disease, write him and enclose stamp, but the testimonials used by the Inter-State Doctors are from actual residents of Aurora and nearby towns. Hundreds of letters are on file in the Inter-State Doctors' office and many ask to have their names used as reference.

Cured of Catarrhal Deafness, Ringing in Ears and Head Noises.

Mr. Wm. Reinhardt of 281 Jackson St., Aurora, says: "For over three years I have been troubled with catarrhal deafness and head noises. I took treatment from four doctors before coming to you, but their treatment did me no good. When I came under your care I could not hear the tick of a watch placed against my left ear. I am pleased to state for the benefit of others who are afflicted as I was that I was soon cured and now my hearing is again perfect and clear. I have been cured of the catarrh, ringing in the ears and head noises. I cannot praise your treatment of my case too highly."

Catarrh of Bladder and Kidney Trouble Relieved After Doctoring 15 Years.

Mr. Zephyr Baltazar of 704 Grand Boulevard, Aurora, says: "I wish to tell others afflicted with catarrh, especially of the kidneys and bladder, how and where I was quickly cured. I lived under suffering for 15 years. I tried every means of relief and doctoring so much without getting any better that I was thoroughly discouraged. Then hearing of the wonderful cures of the Inter-State Doctors, I decided to call on them and see what they could do for me. Their attention to my case was a good one. I explained my whole trouble to me in such a clear manner that I could easily understand it. I concluded that being you understood my case so well, you were the one who could cure me, and so on March 1st I started treatment. The result that in two short weeks I was entirely relieved of my misery. I can truly say that at the present time I do not feel any distress or pain in the regions of my kidneys and bladder and I want other sick folk to know the grand work the Inter-State Doctors are doing here as they have cured me of all my sufferings in so short a time after 15 years of torture and agony."

Catarrh of Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion Cured.

Mr. Arthur Weirich of 444 So. River St., Aurora, says: "For a number of years I was afflicted with catarrh of the stomach and in a poor state of health. I had no appetite whatever; what little I did eat I could not digest as I had catarrh so bad that all food would turn to gas in my stomach. I also felt tired and worn out with no energy or ambition in me. I became alarmed over my condition of health and decided to try the Inter-State Doctors as I had heard so much about them. I wish to state for the benefit of others who suffer from catarrh that under their treatment I soon got rid of the catarrh and now I eat anything I want and have the best appetite I have had for years. Now that I am free from catarrh I have steadily gained in strength and feel so well and full of energy and ambition that it is a pleasure for me to recommend the treatment of the Inter-State Doctors to all in search of health."

Cured of Female Weakness, Nervousness and Run Down Condition From Catarrh.

Mrs. H. A. Tyler of 212 Seminary Ave., Aurora, says: "I had been ill for 12 years and had doctoring from a dozen or more doctors, some of them for four or five months at a time, but did not get any better—in fact, I grew worse. After you had given me a good examination and explained just what my trouble was and how it was caused by a catarrh, when I came to you. It is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle in the treatment I received from you which dissolved the catarrh and improved my sight and now I do not have those terrible pains in my eyes from which I suffered so much."

Women Who Regain Sight Say It Is Hard to Find the Dividing Line Between Skill and Miracle

Mrs. Godfrey Henker, R. F. D. No. 8, Morris, Ill., says: "I am 74 years old and was almost blind and the doctors said there was no help for me as no treatment would dissolve catarrh and that an operation at my advanced age would be dangerous. This was my hopeless condition when I came to you. It is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle in the treatment I received from you which dissolved the catarrh and improved my sight and now I do not have those terrible pains in my eyes from which I suffered so much."

Subject:—"Our Double Service to Buyers." Fitting men with shoes known as the world's best, and giving them the benefit of savings anticipated by early purchases.

Men, Do You Realize What This Shoe House Is Doing for You?

We're selling shoes today at much less than present "replacement values." In other words, at dollars below what we ought to get for them, based on wholesale prices of the hour.

Of course, that may not seem "good business" to the average merchant, but we figure it's going to make us a lot of friends these high priced times, and good friends generally result in staunch customers. That's our way of looking at it.

Gentlemen, come in and look over our complete lines of Shoes and Oxfords. The new, rich Hindu Brown (Cordo Calf) are shown in great variety. You'll find your model and just your size.

Movie Notes

"THE DUMMY"
Morals to photoplays, like morals to stories and insides of pills, have to be given a good solid sugar coating before people really enjoy taking them. The moral in the Famous Players Paramount picture, "The Dummy," starring Jack Pickford, is well coated that it may escape notice. But it seems that Perry, the "poor little rich girl," might point one out. She might suggest that quarrelling fathers and mothers and flitting nurses aren't just the best sort of caretakers for little girls who sometimes get kidnapped under those conditions, as she was in "The Dummy," which is the attraction at the Strand theater.

WALTER BELASCO JINX ON TRIAL

Walter Belasco, brother of the famous producer, and himself a well-known character actor of the screen, has been declared by his fellow players to be a "jinx" to films. Belasco plays the pawnbroker to the life in the Bluebird photoplay, "A Jewel in Pawn," in which Ella Hall is starred. He earned his new and unwelcome title by a series of accidents to the cars of his friends, who offered to transport him to the Bluebird studio. Every day for a week he rode with a different friend, and almost every day that friend would be held up on the road by a blow-out. When it happened the third time, the players decided that there was something more than "chance" at work, and Belasco was given his new title.

In "Follow the Tracks," Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran have to play the roles of two young husbands who are trying to return home in a "diver" after a very convivial evening. They did their parts so well that they were the subjects of a good deal of chaffing from the other players. But they declare that such implications do them infinite injustice.

"You might imagine that we were doing this sort of thing from actual experience," said Eddie indignantly, "but you would be quite wrong. Lee and I are models, but we have occasionally seen men in evening clothes when the tide was running pretty high, and we are both gifted with an unusual bump of observation. That's all."

From letters she has received, Nell Craig guesses the photoplay bug has smitten more girls than boys.

It makes me smile to think how foolish some people are to buy beer that is well known to be of an inferior standard, when they can get the genuine, famous and good old reliable "Schlitz" for the same price.

Schlitz is the pure beer that comes in brown bottles and is guaranteed against deterioration. Why be satisfied with a lesser quality when the Best Beer on earth is just as easy to have.
